REDUCTION MADE IN SALARIES

City Council Makes Many Changes in Salaries of Which the Public Approves.

We have heard a great many people compliment the City Council upon the step they made last Tuesday night to curtail the expenses of the city and the reduction in salaries of the officials seems to meet the general approval of the taxpayers.

The office of City Tax Collector was abolished and combined with the office of City Treasurer, whose salary was fixed at $150.00, in addition to 1 per cent. for collecting taxes up to $10,000 and 2 per cent. in excess of $10,000. The abolition of this office will save the taxpayers several hundred dollars. The changes in the salaries of the Mayor and Police Judge cannot, under the law, take effect until the terms of office of the present incumbents have expired as they are elective offices and their salaries cannot be changed during office. The salary of the City Attorney reduced from $800 to $300; City Clerk from $300 to $200; City Physician from $300 to $150; Police Judge from $900 to $300; Mayor from $600 to $300; City Assessor from $250 to $150. The changes will amount to a reduction in the city's salary roll of about $1,600 per year until January, 1918, when the further reductions will be effective and bringing the total reduction per year up to around $2,500.

We understand that other changes are contemplated that will result in a further saving to the city. The present Council is making every effort to reduce the running expenses of the city.

McCHESNEY SCORES LIQUOR INTERESTS

Hon. Harry V. McChesney, formerly Secretary of State of Kentucky, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor on a State-wide prohibition platform, opened his campaign at Louisville Monday in the presence of a crowd that filled the Lawrence county courthouse and several hundred persons were turned away, not being able to find even standing room. Mr. McChesney excoriated the liquor interests of Kentucky and made a decided hit with his audience when he declared that it was a liability and not an asset from the standpoint of returns to the State. He declared himself in favor of abolishing the liquor traffic in Kentucky and in favor of submitting the question to the people.

Next in point of interest to his remarks on the liquor question Mr. McChesney aroused almost as much applause by his denunciation of the lobby at Frankfort and its interference in legislation. He also emphasized the importance of good roads and good schools to the welfare of the State.

WILL MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Kirkpatrick & Clay are planning to make extensive improvements at their warehouse on South Sycamore street, and will build a sales floor on open place with the Whitehall establishment. It is the purpose to connect the two houses with a steel driveway across Sycamore street. The new improvements will give the Whitehall a floor space and sales room capacity of about 225,000 pounds and will be a big improvement to the loose leaf brakes here.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRY

Mr. Harry Wilson and Miss Nora Medlen, of Little Rock, Bourbon county, were married by Rev. Clyde Darrie at the Christian church parsonage Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. After the ceremony the young couple left in an automobile for Lexington from where they left on a short bridal tour. Both are members of prominent Bourbon county families.

To the Democrats of Montgomery County:

I wish to announce that if Mr. John H. Blount is nominated and elected Clerk of the Montgomery Circuit Court, I will be his Deputy and my father's family will share one-half the proceeds of the office.

For the sake of my father, who was a loyal Democrat, my mother's sake, and my own, I earnestly solicit your influence and support, and any help you may give Mr. Blount will be greatly appreciated by me. Yours faithfully and hopefully, 41-3t Anise Hunt.

PEOPLE WANT STREETS OILED

Here is a Splendid Opportunity For the Business Men's Club to Get Busy.

We certainly hit upon a popular subject last week in an article by one of the readers of the Advocate calling the attention of the citizens of Mt. Sterling to the necessity for the oiling and watering of the streets of this city. We have received the following letters commending the steps we have taken in this matter which we are publishing in the hope that some immediate action will be taken in the matter:

"Bully for you! Keep up the good work, and in two weeks time we should see our streets freed from this miserable dust. It only needs a few public spirited men to get a move on them to get the ball rolling. When I visit other towns and note the oiled streets where they have brick and see the water carts going their rounds, I always wonder why it is that we have lagged behind other places in this respect. Suppose we were asked to oil even the pikes as many Central Kentucky counties have done for years. Surely we can oil our streets if our neighbors can afford to oil county roads. Get a committee at work and do something." (Not signed.)

"Dear Advocate:

"You are on the right trail this time. Keep on till we get water on the down-town brick streets and oil on the others. The reason for a town of 5,500 inhabitants having the dusty streets that we do is something hard to explain. Other places oil and water their streets. What is the reason we can't. No wonder your friend, the traveling man, said he was surprised. Reader."

"Dear Sirs:

"You should be commended for your public-spirit in advocating watered or oiled streets for Mt. Sterling. I believe all merchants and housekeepers will cheerfully support the movement. Get it in shape at once. Yours for a clean town, L. C."

"Dear Sirs:

"Glad you said what you did in favor of watering our streets. Keep at it. If local papers would boost things of that sort a little oftener, even at the expense of war news, it would be doing a public service. Yours for a dustless town. Progress."

Dear Mr. Editor:

"Right you are on the question of oiling and watering streets. As I sat in my place of business and read the Advocate today I also breathed in a few bucketsfull of dust and then looked around on the dust covered articles about me. I went out and got a few cupfulls of fine dust down my collar. In the bank I brushed it off the deposit slips and checks on the writing desk and transacted my business. Dust everywhere while other towns have their streets oiled and sprinkled Wednesday's and Thursday's. Dust ought to have been enough to convert the most obstinate to oil and sprinkling. To talk of depending on the flushing of a few blocks occasionally by the city authorities is child's play.

Let property owners subscribe for a water cart for brick streets and let the Council order the oiling as they order the putting down of pavements. That is how other towns get it. Let's have it by May 1st. Water Wagon."

Editors Advocate, City.

"Dear Sirs:

"Your article in this week's issue with reference to oiling and watering streets is a most timely one. It is to our discredit as a city that this has never been done. As you stated, we are indeed probably the largest town in the State having neither a water-cart or oiled streets. You are also correct in two other statements you make, namely: first, that only small villages can afford to depend upon each property holder to sprinkle in front of his own place, and second, that the fact that some are unwilling to pay for oiling or sprinkling carts, ought not to discourage a city from going ahead and having it done anyway. You can read in your exchanges every day of towns no larger than Mt. Sterling in which the City Council has ordered the streets to be oiled. It has long ago been proven not to be an expense beyond the reach of any town. The brick streets should be gone over with a water-cart twice every morning and twice every afternoon. The macadam streets oiled at this time of the year and possibly again in August. In this way there would be no dust to disfigure the merchants' goods, and none to harass the pedestrian or occupants of vehicles. Last, but not least, it is strange that any town, big or little, through indifference, risk the disease laden dust of the streets. We can meet the difficulty just as scores of other towns in the State have met it. Let every citizen be given an opportunity, as you say, to pay his mite toward oiling and watering not the town in spots, but everywhere. Enough would be raised to accomplish the result, or if not quite enough, surely the Council could and would supplement it. What has become of The Business Men's Club? Can't they handle this matter as other places have? Let us hear from you again on the subject. Subscriber."

COUNTY GETS FULL SHARE

of Available Funds for State Aid and Work Will Begin at Once
On Roads Designated.

Hon. H. C. Terrill, Commissioner of Public Roads has apportioned the funds available for state-aid to roads and Montgomery county gets the full amount asked, $6,000.00. One half of this sum will be spent in constructing a gravel road from Jeffersonville to the Menefee county line and the other half to reconstruct with macadam the Owingsville turnpike road from the Bath county line to Ewington. This information was obtained by us by telephone from Commissioner Terrill and work will be begun within a very short time in order that same might be completed by fall. The sum allotted to Montgomery county is about $2,500 more than over proportionate part of this tax.

ADDRESS AT SPENCER CHURCH

On Wednesday evening last, the Spencer Church, school and neighborhood were delightfully entertained by the inimitable Dr. Martin with a most interesting and instructive address on popular education, sanitary and agricultural scientific advantages directed by modern methods. The lecture was most happily received by a large audience. Dr. Martin was entertained by Mrs. J. L. McCormick in a style the Doctor declared up to the most modern excellence.

MUST STAND TRIAL

The case of Dock Smith, charged with the murder of former Sheriff Ed. Callahan, of Breathitt county, will come up for trial in the Clark County Circuit Court on April 28th. Smith confessed repeatedly to the crime and on his testimony, with that of other confessions, three men were convicted. Dock Smith was permitted to go to his home on probation, but was warned by Judge Benton that at the first hint of trouble, he would be brought back to Winchester to stand trial. This warning was made good by Judge Benton when he learned that Smith was "making trouble" in the mountains.

AN IDEAL CITIZEN

There is a gentleman in this town, known to us all, who is just about our ideal of a good citizen.

He is making his money here, he is raising and educating his family here, and he expects to live and die here.

When he has any money to spend he first looks carefully over the advertisements in this paper. If he finds what he wants he goes there and gives that merchant the first opportunity.

In everything he buys he gives the home merchant the preference.

He occasionally buys articles from abroad, but they are cases wherein he cannot find that which he seeks in his own community.

He believes in his home town, and because he does believe in it and intends to continue to live in it he grasps every possible means of advancing its interests by keeping his money in circulation at home.

He, to our mind, is the IDEAL CITIZEN.

Would that he were multiplied a thousand fold.

For we need more of him.

BASE BALL AT HIGH SCHOOL

With the coming of spring time, the croak of frogs, the piping of the robin, and the hursting of huds, there comes that longing for the out-of-doors that finds its keenest satisfaction in our National Game.

During the long winter days we sigh for a gymnasium and bemoan the fact that no place is provided for basket ball or other form of indoor athletics, but we now have the whole blue sky under which to stretch our legs, fill our lungs with good fresh air and chase a horse-hide ball to our heart's content.

If numbers, enthusiasm and practice count for anything it would seem that the Mt. Sterling High School is to be represented by a fast team of base ball players this season. The Fair Grounds park is a scene of unusual activity each afternoon when about twenty of High School's huskiest lads meet for a hard work-out, getting ready for their opening game at Cynthiana April 16th.

The schedule prepared for this year is one of the hardest undertaken by the locals in many years, and includes the best High School teams in Central Kentucky.

Many are trying for places on the team and there promises to be a hard contest over some of the positions. The following are reporting for practice each afternoon:
Kelly, Hainline, Dellaven, Coleman, Oldham, Daniel, VanAntwerp, Nesbitt, Botts, Dale, Duty, Chenault, Sullivan, Wells, and Langston. The games already scheduled are as follows:

April 16—Cynthiana at Cynthiana; April 19—Lexington at Lexington; April 26—Winchester at Mt.
Sterling; April 30—Frankfort at Frankfort; May 3—Cynthiana at Mt. Sterling; May 10—Frankfort at Frankfort; May 14—Lexington at Mt. Sterling; May 21—Winchester at Winchester; June 3—Frankfort at Mt. Sterling.

There is a great probability that additional games will be arranged not only with the teams of the Association, but with Richmond, Owingsville and Carlisle.

The local "fans" will have an opportunity to see some high class base ball this season and those who have seen the locals work out, say that they will be contenders for first place in the Central Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

All games will be played under the rules of the Association which prescribes the qualifications of players, requires that only bona fide students engage in games, etc.

The home team hopes to have new base ball suits and equipment of every sort and in order that the season be successful, it will be necessary that the town of Mt. Sterling support the team by attending games, boosting and manifesting optimism as to its ultimate success.

WHAT IS MEANT BY CONSOLIDATION

from last week)

By consolidation of schools is meant the uniting of two, three, or more small schools into one large and strong school, possessing a comfortable and sanitary building, two or more good teachers, (teachers with high school education and Normal training), and reasonable facilities for work. In many respects it is desirable to consolidate at a small village and to place the building there; but there is no reason why the school should not be located in the most convenient place for districts concerned. The whole purpose of consolidation, in any event, is to continue and foster the rural school.

Facts About Consolidation.

1. The first consolidated school was in Massachusetts in 1874.
2. Thirty-two states have a partial system of consolidated schools.
3. Massachusetts has consolidated every school in every county.
4. Indiana has consolidation in eighty-two out of ninety-two counties.
5. In North Dakota the number of consolidated schools doubled in the last two years.
6. More consolidated school buildings were constructed in the United States in the past five years than during the twenty-five years preceding.
7. In 1889 Massachusetts spent $22,118.38 for transportation; in 1908 she spent $292,213.33.
8. In Virginia the expenditure for transportation in 1908 was twelve times as much as it was in 1905.
9. Consolidation has been as successful in one section of the United States as another.
10. Not an instance is known where a consolidated school has been abandoned to return to the small district system.
11. In consolidated schools twice as many pupils finish the eighth grade as in the districts before consolidated.
12. One pupil out of every six enrolled in consolidated schools goes to High School, while only one out of every thirty-six enrolled in the district school attends High School.
13. The average cost of schooling per pupil per day is less in consolidated schools than in small district schools.
14. Twenty-seven per cent more of the school population attends school after the districts are consolidated than attended in the same districts before consolidation.
15. Children start to consolidated schools seven-tenths of a year older, on the average, and finish the eighth grade two-thirds of a year younger than in district schools.
The passing point is in the fourth grade.
16. Of the six million country boys and girls in the United States, two-thirds of them are in sections where they may be accessible to consolidated schools.

FOR CITY TREASURER

C. B. Patterson

MR. C. B. PATTERSON

It is our pleasant privilege to present by his authority, the name of Mr. Clark B. Patterson, as a candidate to succeed himself as Treasurer of the city of Mt. Sterling, which place was, by a recent ordinance, made elective and its duties enlarged whereby the taxes due the city will, in the future, be collected through that office, the office of City Tax Collector having been abolished.

That Mr. Patterson has made a most acceptable officer, any one who has ever transacted public business with him will attest. In every day life he is upright, courteous and affable and as a result enjoys the confidence, friendship and respect of our community. In politics, he belongs to what might be termed the new democracy, or those of the more progressive type, who look upon a public office, not as a reward of the spoils system, but a public trust, that can only be discharged by efficient, honorable and painstaking effort. As an illustration of this we might mention the fact that as cashier of one of our leading banking institutions he has been enabled to save the city nearly twice his present salary and greatly strengthen the city's credit, by cashing interest-bearing vouchers and carrying them in lieu of a balance due the sewer fund which would otherwise have remained idle.

Believing that Mr. Patterson is admirably equipped for dependable public service, we present his claims to his fellow-Democrats and ask for them, in the August primary, the careful consideration to which they are undoubtedly entitled.

FULFILLING PROMISES

In accordance with the recent published assurances of Mayor Oldham and as predicted in these columns, the City Council at its last regular meeting put its policy of retrenchment into effect by cutting the salaries of a number of offices, which as soon as it can legally become effective, will save the taxpayers some two thousand, five hundred dollars annually and we are reliably informed the council is not yet through with its program of economy.

As we have said before, this council has had many trying situations to meet, not of its own making, but being composed of fine business men and on the whole the best council we have ever seen, when their terms are finished we confidently look for all unprejudiced and fair-minded citizens to give credit where credit is due.

COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS

Last week in County Court R. D. Barnes tendered his resignation to Judge W. O. Chenault as guardian for Jesse Robert Hainline, an infant, and after due settlement with the court was discharged from the trust, and John G. Wian was appointed guardian of said Hainline and being present accepted said appointment, executed bond and taking the oath required by law entered upon his duties as such.

On Wednesday, April 7th, Judge A. A. Hazlett, attorney, filed in court a paper purporting to be the last will and testament of J. W. Clark, deceased, and on Thursday comes Lane Clark and Mollie Clark, beneficiaries under said will, moved the court to probate said instrument as such, to which motion Sarah Frazier and her husband, Chas. H. Frazier and Richard Clark, heirs at law of J. W. Clark, objected. And it appearing to the court that various other heirs were neither present nor represented, and for the purpose of getting all parties interested before the court the case was passed and E. W. Senff was appointed Warning Order Attorney to correspond with the various absent heirs that they may enter their appearance.

By agreement J. W. Cecil was appointed curator of the estate of which the court appointed Arthur Jacobs, William Highland and Thos. Cunniff appraisers, and ordered that the sale of the personal property be had as required by law in such cases.

NEWSPAPER MEN ORGANIZE

A number of newspaper representatives from the Northern District of the Kentucky Press Association met in Paris Friday and organized an association. The call for this meeting was issued by Secretary W. D. Mefford of Falmouth, and the purpose was the organization of a league for business and social purposes. The meeting was held at the courthouse, and the organization will be known as "The Eastern Kentucky Newspaper League," and to include all the newspapers within the territory north of the C. & O. Railway, extending from Louisville, via Lexington to Ashland and taking in all the counties through which the road extends.

None of the local papers were represented although this territory is included in the district.

NOTED GERMAN RAIDER SLIPS INTO NEWPORT NEWS

The German converted cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, the elusive raider of commerce in the South Atlantic, slipped into Newport News Sunday and asked for fuel and provisions. Many times reported destroyed, the former North German-Lloyd lines had evaded hostile warships for eight months, while she sent fourteen merchantmen to the bottom. Her officers said she was forced to steal her way past four allied cruisers off the Virginia Capes to reach refuge.

In her raid of the seas since she slipped out of New York harbor August 3 last, a German merchant and passenger steamer, the Wilhelm never touched land and took 960 prisoners.

Of the fourteen ships that the cruiser sank, nine were British, four French and one Norwegian. The value of these ships and their cargoes officers of the Wilhelm estimated at $7,000,000.

FARM SANITATION

Farm sanitation is scarcely appreciated by the practical farmer unless it be presented to him from the dollar and cents point of view. If it can be convincingly shown that better farm management, in so far as sanitary science is involved, will insure an increased yearly income, it will not be necessary to force farm sanitation upon the Kentucky farmer.

While the four great diseases—infectious abortion, hog cholera, blackleg and tuberculosis—to which Kentucky live stock are quite subject are caused by living germs, it may be safely said that their existence in a herd is largely the fault of the owner of the herd. Infectious abortion may be controlled and even eradicated from the premises by the intelligent use of hygienic methods. With the aid of one's power of observation, the liberal use of air slaked lime, the isolation of infected animals, and the disinfection of the sire before and after service, much can be done to insure the accomplishment of the desired results.

One cannot enter upon the discussion of the relations existing between financial welfare and rural sanitation without giving some consideration to hog cholera. The writer has seen this great burden of the swine industry absolutely controlled on individual farms by the intelligent use of sanitary measures. The killing of all sick animals and their disposal by burning, together with liberal use of air slaked lime, the most efficient and inexpensive disinfectant to be purchased, will do much to alleviate the financial loss which is being incurred year after year by supposedly intelligent breeders. It has been said that if the American farmer would evince as much enthusiasm over methods of cleanliness before he gets into trouble as he does over fake cures after the trouble has arrived, the financial condition of rural communities would be several years in advance of its present stage, and as a result of this increased prosperity better schools and better roads could be had in rural districts.

In a discussion of this nature one must not overlook the greatest factor which is involved in all undertakings of a community nature—cooperation. The success of any attempt to control diseases of live stock by sanitary or other methods is jeopardized by lack of cooperation of the inhabitants of that community. As an example of the great results to be obtained, one county in another State in which an organization of the farmers was perfected may be cited to advantage. During the season of 1913, 5000 hogs were lost by the farmers from hog cholera. In the beginning of the 1914 season a concerted effort was made by the State Experiment Station to organize that county into a perfect unit to fight hog cholera. With the application of sanitary measures and the judicious use of anti-hog cholera serum, alone—no virus being allowed in the district—the loss of swine from all causes during the 1914 season was held down to 600 head. Community organization will do more for the farmer than any other agent that can be employed. On application to the Director of the Experiment Station anti-hog cholera clubs or sanitation clubs will be organized.

Tonic but Vinol and Rec-

Greenville, S. C.—"It is with pleasure I tell others of the great benefit I have derived from Vinol, for the past several years. I am 81 years old and I find Vinol gives me strength, a healthy appetite and overcomes nervous disorders. Vinol is the only tonic reconstructor I have used for several years. I have recommended it to a great many of my friends and it has always proved satisfactory."—Mrs. M. A. HUTCHISON, Greenville, S. C.

Such cases as the above are constantly coming to our attention. If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

It is the tissue building, curative elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making strengthening properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol, that makes it so successful in building up strength for old people, delicate children and for all run-down conditions. Vinol is also a most successful remedy for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis. If it fails to benefit any one who tries it we return your money.

TWISTING THE TAIL OF THE GOLDEN RULE

The Golden Rule is a good rule, but we often twist its tail to a frazzle.

It was laid down as a guiding star to the faltering and wayward footsteps of humanity. But there are many feet in this town that neglect to tread the golden pathway of life.

It has been taught us at the mother knee, preached to us from the pulpit, fed to us in the schools, declaimed from the lecture platform, and advocated from a thousand other sources.

But there are local ears that hear not and eyes that refuse to see.

The tail of the Golden Rule is receiving some vigorous twists in this town.

Often we are asked by some merchant to preach the doctrine of "trade at home." We preach it, and it helps to enrich the merchant who made the request.

That is good, for we believe in patronizing local institutions—we like to see them grow—we want the money kept at home.

But when the same merchant whose money till we have helped to fill sends out of town for his job printing we cannot but pity the isolation of the poor old Golden Rule.

Some people make their money in this community, enjoy life in the community, educate their children at the expense of the community, and then buy their goods from merchants who are NOT in or of the community.

It is some tug at the golden tail.

There are some people who want the earth for what they sell and then expect to receive some of their own purchases for less than cost. And the Golden Rule is helpless—forgotten—kicked into the discard. A few people make a practice of parading their own virtues and sneering at the frailties of their neighbors.

Some want to hog everything in sight, though the less fortunate experience the gnawing pangs of hunger.

Occasionally we see a sanctimonious countenance in church while the mind within is devising means of skinning others out of their hard earned dollars.

The Golden Rule? Why, the poor, decrepit old rule is strangling three hundred and sixty-five days in the year.

Its coat of gold has turned to rust, and the once sparkling waters if its purity are stagnant from disuse.

Can you point to a soul in all this wide world who in all things does unto others as he would have them do unto him?

Possibly we, too, are twisting the tail of the Golden Rule when we publish this article, for we are telling others of their faults when we have many of our own—which we too often forget.

And yet we repent, the Golden Rule is a GOOD rule.

We may not walk steadfastly in accordance with its teachings, but we may at least practice a portion of that which we preach. We may at least practice a portion of that which we preach. We may record to others a slight degree of that which we demand for ourselves.

We may even trail along in the shadow of the Golden Rule, though our steps be faltering and our limbs over weary.

For we are but human, and no human being of today is perfect.

Yes, the tail of the Golden Rule receives many twists, yet it is the tail that never knows disjointment.

GET OUT OF THE OLD RUT

What's the use of spending our whole lives sleeping in the same old rut when there are bigger ones all around us?

What's the use of being in a rut at all?

We want more industries in this town, and new industries are never found in ruts. Ruts are too small for them.

Let's crawl up out of our rut.

There is nothing in the old rut for us, but there are opportunities in every direction if we care to reach out and grasp them.

It is up to us.

We can stagnate in our rut, or we can reach out and grasp something—pull ourselves out—do something—get to the top.

But we'll never do it as long as we rattle around in the same old rut with the dry bones of our ancestors for company.

We need new industries, and there are manufacturers all over the country looking for changes in location.

But they will never erect their plants in a rut.

They are full of life, and they want a live atmosphere about them. They want to locate in a community with advantages.

We have them.

They want to be surrounded by people of intelligence, who know how to use their brains.

We have the intelligence, and our brains are capable of accomplishing vastly more than we have ever dreamed of in the past.

This community is charged with intellectual and physical dynamite, but it is in a rut and needs some one to blow it out.

Let's all get busy and blow.

Let's pull some of those manufacturers into this town on a tour of inspection, and then let's give them a fair opportunity to size up our natural advantages and our intellectual force.

We won't get them all, but we will get some of them.

Nobody ever swallows a loaf of bread at one gulp.

Many bites make up a square meal, and many efforts will bring new industries into our midst, with bigger pay rolls, and more money in circulation and more houses to be filled and mouths to be fed.

It all contributes to the prosperity of a community.

We want prosperity here, but prosperity never goes out looking for a place to light.

We must hook it on the fly, and our hook must be well baited or the other fellow will have the strongest pull.

Again we say, let's get out of our rut and do something.

Let's make a careful and systematic campaign for new industries, increased population and greater prosperity.

It's waiting for us, but it won't come to us.

We must go out after it. Opportunity is everywhere, but it won't crawl into our pockets uninvited.

This world is on a trot, and it is some trot.

We have the fox trot, the turkey trot, the dog trot, the gold trot and the silly trot.

And everybody's trotting. If we don't trot for one thing, we trot for another.

The young man trots along in the wake of the dainty maid.

The bald head trots around hunting for any kind of a skirt.

The millionaire trots in harness with his affinity.

The dude trots in the halo of his own silliness.

The miser trots after his gold, and the grafter trots the road to hell.

The politician trots in the lime-light of publicity, and the voter trots at his beck and call.

The hypocrite trots around in the cloak of religion, and the godly man after the souls of men.

Death trots in the trenches of Europe, while misery and starvation trots over the heartstrings of the women and children left at home.

Everybody's on the trot, and it is a fast and furious trot, with every man for himself and Satan take the hindmost trotter.

If you would succeed in this life you must trot, for only the trotters reach the goal of today.

It is the day of the trot, and we are essentially a people of today. For we trot.

WILL MAKE GOOD

Miss Lutie Quisenberry has returned from Richmond, where she went with her sister, Miss Ola Quisenberry, and Miss Mary Williams, both of this county, who have entered the Normal School, and will study to fit themselves for teachers. Both are well fitted for the work and will no doubt succeed.

Even peace has its advantages. Let's hang onto it.

In Michigan Tuesday the local option forces carried 14 out of 16 cities, the "wets" winning only two victories. In Wisconsin the "drys" gained 19 towns, while in Illinois 3 counties heretofore "wet" voted "dry."

ONLY GRAPE JUICE AT BANQUET OF STATE BAR

Intoxicants will be barred from the banquet board of the State Bar Association at its meeting in Frankfort July 8. Robert A. McDowell, of Louisville, secretary of the association, met Monday afternoon with a committee of the Frankfort bar and in going over the arrangements they voted to have grape juice and no wine.

The committee was composed of Judge J. P. Hobson, Senator J. C. W. Beckham, Representative Elwood Hamilton, Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, T. L. Edelen, Judge Ira Julian and James Andrew Scott.

Senator John K. Shields, of Tennessee, formerly a Justice of the Supreme Court of that State, will be the principal speaker. A barge ride on the Kentucky River the afternoon of the second day, followed by the banquet that night, will be the chief diversion of the meeting.

FOUR MEN CONVICTED IN INDIANA ELECTION FRAUD

Four men convicted in the Terre Haute election fraud trial and sentenced by Judge Anderson to the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., received their commitment papers late Monday and were given until Sunday to begin the trip to prison. The other sixteen, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, who received prison sentences and appeal, and the eighty-seven who were given sentences ranging from one day to six months are now serving time in jail. Only eight of the 116 prisoners escaped punishment. Four were given suspended sentences and four others at the request of United States District Attorney Dailey were not sentenced as he said, it might invalidate their testimony in the trial of Roy Shattuck, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth Indiana District, and four other Republicans who were candidates for office in Vigo county.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE GOVERNORSHIP

Fresh from the trials at Terre Haute, Mr. Stanley comes to Kentucky to seek the Democratic nomination for Governor of Kentucky. He has back of him a handful of politicians who count for little. His supporters hope to put back of him the allied brewery and distillery element of the State.

If he does not get that support his candidacy is a joke. If he does get it he will not be nominated, but the liquor men, by making themselves and their business the issue, will do the most useful part in the work of digging their own grave.

The Evening Post is not prepared to believe that the liquor men will be guilty of the supreme blunder of making themselves responsible for the candidacy of Mr. Stanley. A man, standing on the county unit bill and attracting the support of middle-of-the road men, can probably win, but of one thing there is no possible doubt, Mr. Stanley cannot figure in this race without the liquor men actively entering politics in his behalf, and, if the liquor men do commit this blunder they commit suicide. There is no particular need for haste in this matter, but unless it is eliminated as a Democratic possibility there will be an elimination of a different kind later. Louisville Post.
